The great States of Pennsylvania, Ohio I Indiana have declared in thunder on against a humiliating peace with relevous traitors, and in favor of the secution of the war, until its crowning er is achieved by the submission to the majesty of the laws. The enal struggle, is in no respecreat National struggle; is in no respect celetive. Penneylvania, with thirty mand bipave none just sent to the field, it the enemy at buy on the home vote-tic her gullant soldiers have amounced most emphatic language that the men no tibed their heroism, hate them for its victorion, and rejoice at the misfor-men, shall not rule the fair land they we nought to distruy. Sixteen loyal-thful members are returned to the next suggess, displacing four of the next who re voted alike to embarrase the govern-ent and its noble armies in its fearful attest with traitous; and a Union legicia-us in both branches and a decided Union agority on the popular vote, determine spoud all cavil that the Keystone State units be sedienced or intinsidated into su-cidal hostility to her brave zone in the the Pendletons, the Longs and the sympathizers of treason to open shame and the authors and followers of the Chicago platform to perpetual obscurity—Searcely a M'Clellan Congressman is left to tell that his party has an existence in the total that his party has an existence in the prosent Congress fail to vote as Vallandigham and Jeff. Davis would dictate. In Indiana, where Democracy had culminated in open, insolent treachery—in positive and thorough and armed organization to plunge the Nation into anarrhy, the loyal people of all parties have made commog amane to hart the faithless into obscurity by a majority entirely unprecedented—with their gallant soldiers deliberately disfranchised by a disloyal legislature, they considerately hoped to was the State for M'Clellan and Profileton: but they are routed by a majority of 22,000 and but two of the clerca Congressment electricature of the M'Clellan school.

other conties, solely to determine the preliminary struggle of October in their favor. They had organization—perfect, systematic their plane, and that they have not triumph is the fault of their cause, not of their want of skill and ceuseless energy. Let ne lower from our force. Our cause is not lost—not even falled, for Ohio and, Indiana have revealed it, and our brave struggless, the effort of every Union man, and our vertice of Rovember will be no less decisive than that of other loyal states. Let the Union men of every election district see at once that a complete list of their voters is nade out; that their wants are supplied; that documents are, on hand to meet every sophistry of our fues; that means are provided to have the feelble, the inflem and the doubting brought to the polls, and Permeylvania will be carried for Lincoln by fifty thousand. Let no Union man feeth that his district is small and therefore unimportant, or that a few votes will make no difference. It is be losing a very few votes by suphrences and neglect in each of the three thousand election districts of the State that great agregates are but. While the State is in owner doubting will be both of the overthrow that it is not an decisive that men of all shades of treachers, will learn that in tidelity, only is there selfery with the eventy of every loyal man at once, and the ker fervey loyal man at once,

Let organization therefore he the work of every loyal man at once, and the Key stone State will not blush when Indiana, with adiofranchised soldiery, rollscripthity thousand for the Union causes. The time is short. Each golden moment lost is a wrong to a threatened government and do a hyroic army. Forward loyal men! the hour, of triumph is at band!
