Liceat, Gen. Taylor and the army under the command surrendered to Gen. Camby.

6 Citrouelle, Mes., on the kin the This arrender dishands, the last army of the rebellion, and virtually closes the war last of the Mississippi. West of the river would seem the robol Gen. Kin's Smith-lil proposes to carry on the war. In a smulling productation he amountees the urreider of Lee, and calle upon his men rands to their colors, assures them that heir resources are ample for a protracted arrange till foreign aid arrives or till they are seeme the terman proud prople should be mad. When the 4th Corps of Thomastray, trenty call thousand strong, gets or Feng. it is highly probable that time, kirthy Smith will view things in the light ear and Johnston did here, and surrouder virtious waiting for foreign aid, on the set terms he can get.

The guestile warfare which was to be welved against us after our Southern workers and did in the tax ditches of southern and workers and did in the tax ditches of best terms he can get.

The guerilla warfare which was to be revived against us after our Southern beethreah had died in the last ditches of the regular war, and which so terrified the souls of the patriotic men among us who declared the South could hever be con quered, appears to be accommodating tisself to the new condition of things very endly and quietly. Since the surrender of the main armies of treason, noted generally and quietly, since the surrender of the main armies of treason, noted generilla bands in different parts of the country are consing in almost daily and surrendering. The truth is the guerilla lundress is becoming revy unsafe just at this time. The tenerals commanding most our Departments have issued ordered-claring guerillas outlaws, and not entitled to the privileges of prisoners of war. This immers and romance of delightful to young fennale secosh. A vigorium counter this kind, and making the inhabitant of every section responsible in person of extate for every outrage perpettrated kinong them, anless they deliver up the guilty parties, or give information against them.
