prefending to us control to the virius of Barsaparnia, or any thing else.

During into years the public have been relied by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparnia for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain listh, if any, Barsaparilla, but often no curative properties whaterer. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly demised, and has become synonymous with imposition and chast. Still name tiest is justly despised, and has pecture synonymous with imposition and chair. Still we call this compound Surseparilis, and intend to supply such a rhindy as shall rescue the name from the load of oblequy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irrestable by the ordinary run of the disease it is intended to cure.
